THE BELLS BENEATH BRACKENFORD

Faelan Haversham | Session 5

Starfall Spire

Observatory located in the mountains.

The majority of the research is astronomical, but several documents concern planar magic.

Found a collection of papers authored by Eldrin Valtoris.

Kael recognised the name as the wizard responsible for healing him after his mercenary injury.

Relevant passage from Eldrin's research:

Residual magical energy can remain in biological tissue after extensive magical healing. In some circumstances, this energy can alter the recipient's natural relationship with planar forces.

One reference to a phenomenon described as a "shadow echo".

Potential explanation for Kael's abilities.

I have questions about whether this is the same type of magic that influences blood-based augmentation.

Personal research discovery:

Found diagrams showing blood being used as a conduit between a mortal body and a planar energy source.

The diagrams were incomplete but familiar in principle.

My own haemocraft may be related to this discipline.

Idris activated a magical lens which projected a map of three locations beneath Brackenford.

The bellfoundry, old river district and Saint Orra's Reservoir were marked.

Combat against animated constructs.
